"FUKIMODOSHI"?

Q What is a "FUKIMODOSHI" ?

A After putting it in your mouth and blowing it stretches out straight, then rolls back. It is an old toy from old days in Japan.

Q When you say old days, how long ago?

A It seems that they were first made in Japan in the early 1900s, but I am not sure exactly when. However, they are well-known all over Japan from the olden days in festival shops or as a special gift with picture-storybooks.

Q Do other parts of the world have "FUKIMODOSHI" ?

A In the west, they are customary at birthday or Christmas parties. Also, the "FUKIMODOSHI" at "FUKIMODOSHI NO SATO" (previously called "YAHATA KOUNDO") became known as BLOWOUTS in the 1960s and 1970s when they were exported around the world to America, Canada, Europe, Russia, Brazil, and such.

Q Are the "FUKIMODOSHI(Blowouts)" at "FUKIMODOSHI NO SATO" different from other Blowouts?

A The blowouts at "FUKIMODOSHI NO SATO" use materials and parts from Japan, and they are fine products because they are handmade by the people of Awajishima. In addition, there are various interesting types of blowouts such as those for medical care, nursing care, beauty care, and more that are only made here at "FUKIMODOSHI NO SATO"
